CANCERS CAN BE CURED

DR. L. CHASE,
(LATE OF PORTLAND),
THE CELEBRATED
INDIANŒPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR
DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.

DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case uses a knife, as does Dr. Greene, of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office at residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

Important to Lumbermen
AND
Owners of Hemlock Lands.

THE AMERICAN PATENTED IMPROVEMENT TANNING COMPANY of New York own the exclusive right in the United States for the manufacture of an imperishable "EXTRACT" from Hemlock Bark for tanning purposes. The Bark Extract is now extensively used among Tanners, and the demand for it is rapidly increasing. It commands a ready sale in the Boston, New York and Philadelphia markets, at sixty cents per gallon. The appliances for manufacturing are simple and not expensive, costing but little more than the ordinary leaches used by Tanners. By this process 1½ cords of bark may be reduced so as to concentrate the entire strength into forty gallons of Extract, without in the slightest degree injuring its tanning qualities, and at a cost not exceeding one dollar per cord. The saving in freight alone, between the transportation of the Extract and the Bark, will range from six to eight dollars per cord, so that any one who may get out but three hundred cords of Bark per year, may save from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars in the difference in freight.

The Company does not propose to sell Territorial rights, but will grant exclusive privilege to manufacture in certain localities, charging a small royalty per gallon on the amount manufactured.

The Company will send competent men to superintend the construction of works, where parties desire to enter into the business, and to instruct in the manufacture of the Extract.

As a guarantee of success to parties entering into this business, the Company will contract to take all the Extract manufactured under their process at fifty cents per gallon, delivered in Boston or New York.

Parties in Maine desiring further information as to terms, &c., may call upon or address CHARLES HALE, General Agent for Maine, 24 Main street, Bangor, where models of the apparatus may be seen.

SEWING MACHINE.

THE superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either FAMILY USE or MANUFACTURING PURPOSES, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellencies is no longer considered necessary.

THE LETTER "A" FAMILY MACHINE,

hitherto manufactured by this Company, has gained and maintained the world over, and for years past, an unparalleled reputation and sale. But notwithstanding the excellence of this Machine, we have now to announce that it has been superseded by our

which has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of TIME, LABOR or EXPENSE, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the BEST SEWING MACHINE IN EXISTENCE.

The machine in question is SIMPLE, COMPACT, DURABLE and BEAUTIFUL. It is QUIET, LIGHT RUNNING, and CAPABLE OF PERFORMING A RANGE AND VARIETY OF WORK never before attempted upon a single machine—using either silk, twist, linen or cotton thread, and sewing with equal facility the VERY FINEST and coarsest materials, and any thing between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for hemming, braiding, cording, tucking, quilting, felling, trimming, binding, etc., are novel and practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this machine.

CHARLES HALE,
SOLE AGENT,

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL
WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests,

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have, from time to time, been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine, &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objections, and positively safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill the worms, but act by making their dwelling-place disagreeable to them. In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these Lozenges, the analysis of DR. A. A. HAYES, State Assayer, is annexed:—

State Temperance Convention.

At the annual session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance in October, that body deeming it desirable that a general convention of the friends of Temperance in the State should be held during the present winter, three of its officers were made a committee to unite with the representatives of other Temperance organizations and other friends of the cause in calling, and making arrangements for such a convention. The prompt and cordial co-operation of the officers of the Grand Lodge of the Order of Good Templars was at once secured, and a circular was at once sent to many friends of the cause, in different sections of the State, requesting them to unite in this call, from a large number of whom responses have been received expressing their approval and support of the movement.

We therefore respectfully and earnestly invite all friends of the Temperance cause throughout the State, to meet in Convention, in

GRANITE HALL, AUGUSTA.

On Thursday, January 24th, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

All temperance organizations, local temperance meetings and conventions, and all Sunday schools, churches and other religious bodies, are requested to send delegates to this convention, and all friends of Temperance, whether they are or are not connected with any organization, are earnestly invited to come together on this occasion and unite in a common effort to promote this great reform.

Much has been accomplished in behalf of this great cause, but much yet remains to be done.—Thousands have been saved by the PLEDGE, but other thousands are yearly going down to the drunkard's death. A vast and noble army has been enrolled under the Temperance Banner to battle against Intemperance, in the various Temperance organizations of the day; but the wine-cup and the dram-shop have recruited a still greater host.

Great victories have been won in the reform of social custom, moral sentiment and legislation, but there are hard battles yet to be fought. Drinking usages and the liquor traffic have, by the progress of the temperance reform, been placed under a ban from which they can never escape, but they still constitute the greatest moral and social evil in the nation.

Let the friends of Temperance rally, then, to organize renewed resistance to this great evil. Let them come together in this Convention to give a new impetus to the temperance work, and to endeavor to unite the temperance sentiment of the State in a common effort to promote it. This will be the work of the Convention, and in addressing itself to this work, various topics will be presented for its consideration. The most important of these will be—The means of uniting the efforts of all the friends of Temperance in the State most effectively for identical and united action in behalf of the cause; the necessity of a better enforcement of the laws against the liquor traffic, and the best means of securing it; The political duties of temperance men, and the means of securing fidelity to temperance principles and measures in all places of official position and public trust; the duty of the church to the cause; the duty of Temperance men and women in the training of the young, etc.

Maine has always been in the fore-front of the temperance movement. Let her keep her place there still. She has given to the cause the mighty watchword of PROHIBITION; let her clothe her LAW with the majesty and power which shall make it inviolate. Let us come together at her capital and speak her voice against the iniquity which is spoiling her of so much of virtue, strength, happiness, wealth and prosperity, and let us with earnest hearts unite in the effort to redeem our State and Nation from the curse and crime of Intemperance.

A Japanese juggling troupe, on their way to Paris, has reached San Francisco, where some of their strange feats have been witnessed. There are in all about a dozen performers, and they will probably visit the principal cities of this country and Europe. One of their performances is thus described:

An old man lies upon his back with his feet in the air, a little boy mounts and stands upon them. An oval tub is passed to the boy, which he places under his feet and upon the man's, another is given to him which is added to the first, and so on until the little fellow's head nearly touches the proscenium from the top of the tottering pile, which is all supported by the strong and muscular chap below.

The little fellow makes his salaam to the audience from his dizzy height, coolly fans himself as he surveys the situation, and appears as unconcerned as if reposing on terra firma. Suddenly one of the performers utters an exclamation in Japanese, which is responded to by an other, the old man, the foundation of the pile, takes up the chorus, and the little fellow at the top jerks it out like the snapper to a whip, the "foundation" gives his feet a kick—things look squally for little Tommy—the audience fear that he will fall and break his neck, or be terribly bruised among the boxes; the old man beneath appears in imminent danger from the falling tubs, but no, he gives his feet a kick, throws the tubs entirely from him, and Tommy drops like a cat, alighting with his feet upon the old man's, and in an upright position.

Hamil has accepted the challenge of Walter Brown, of Portland, on the following terms, the race to come off in May:

"I will row him a three mile race and a five mile race, to be rowed on days following each other—the three mile race for five hundred dollars a side, the five mile race for one thousand dollars a side; the races to come off at Pittsburg, and I will allow him three hundred dollars for expenses. I think friend Brown ought to accept this, as he has never had to travel far for a race, while on the contrary, I have had to do a great deal in that way."

"TRICKS OF TRADE." A case was tried before Police Court yesterday. The plaintiffs were silversmiths, who charged defendant with the larceny of a silver napkin ring manufactued at their shop for another party. The plaintiffs testified that this third party, a lady, brought to their shop a silver coin, to the value of $4.50, and requested that it be made into a napkin ring, for which she was to pay $1.50. At the time agreed upon for the ring to be done, she called, received the ring, and paid as per agreement, $1.50 for manufacturing. She subsequently ascertained that her ring was not solid silver—that it was purchased at a jewelry shop upon the street at a cost of $2.50. She was naturally indignant, for she told the parties at the start that the silver was a present, and that she wanted it put into some shape more convenient for keeping. She had also paid in coin and currency $6.50 for what cost but $2.50. She called upon the parties and demanded an explanation, when they owned up, giving as a reason for the operation a pressure of business, and thought one ring might answer her purpose as well as another. A SAD STORY. The report of a coroner's inquest brings to light some startling facts connected with the means by which a large class of London workpeople strive to get a living. A man named Hone, and his four children, who followed the occupation of artificial flower makers, had an extensive order for wreaths of artificial flowers for one of the Christmas pantomimes. Night and day for ninety-six hours had these poor people stuck to their work, so as to have it ready in time, and this the father states, he has been frequently compelled to do, in order to earn bread for his family. At the close of the fourth day their labors were suddenly put a stop to by the upsetting of a candle, which simple accident resulted in the burning to death of one of the unfortunate man's children, and the destruction of the whole fruits of the ninety-six hours' constant work.

CREDULITY. The Nashville Banner learns "on good authority" that a gentleman who was recently identified very prominently with the oil interests of Tennessee, and who had held a high command in the Federal army during the war, lost over fifty thousand dollars by locating wells under the direction of "water" or "oil witches." So implicit was his belief in this ridiculous superstition of the nineteenth century, that he was compelled to return home an utter bankrupt.

During the past year the agents of the Massachusetts State Temperance Alliance made 908 addresses, and the number of tracts published by the Alliance was 250,000, embracing nearly 2,000,000 of pages. Besides the addresses enumerated above, in the quarterly meetings of the District Temperance Unions, organized by the Alliance, there have been one hundred elaborate addresses, and not less than six hundred speeches by clergymen and laymen. Nearly two hundred Sabbath Schools, in which there are not less than 25,000 scholars, have introduced the pledge.

A LUCKY NEWSBOY. A small newsboy named Henry Martain, whose father was killed at Bull Run, has fallen heir to $300,000 through the death of an uncle who accumulated a large fortune in Texas, to save which he joined the Confederate army and was killed at Shiloh, leaving the whole of his property to his brother, or heirs of his brother. Detectives have been searching for young Martain for the last three months, and finally discovered him selling papers in Toronto, C. W. His mother resides in Rochester, N. Y., whither the boy has returned with his handsome fortune.

A Texas paper says that Gen. Longstreet related the following anecdote of the commander-in-chief of the late rebel army. On one occasion Gen. Lee called Col. L., one of his staff officers, into his tent, and commenced dictating while Col. L. wrote. Colonel L. had in his mouth a pipe, and was smoking. The General inhaled the vapor until his patience became exhausted, and then said: "Col. L., you can retire, and send me Col. M.; he does not smoke." Col. L. retired, and in a few moments Col. M. entered, to whom the General commenced dictating, but after inhaling the atmosphere of the tent awhile, he discovered it to be considerably impregnated, not with the perfume of roses, but the odious smell of villainous whisky, which he could not stand. "Retire, Col. M., and send me an officer who neither drinks nor smokes; I would rather endure the smoke of tobacco than the smell of whisky."

THE POLITICAL CONTEST IN PENNSYLVANIA. Col. John W. Forney having retired from the Senatorial contest, it lies between Gov. Curtin, Mr Cameron and the great Thaddeus Stevens. We say great, because we think him pre-eminently the strongest man in the State, if not in the country.

The contest will be watched with rare interest since all these men are widely known. Little can be judged at present of the result but much as we have dissented from Mr. Stevens' views, we can but hope that he will be the successful candidate. The Tribune puts his case strongly and concludes a review of the canvass thus:

It is not much to be a Republican to day. But it was something to be a lover of freedom forty years ago. For forty years Thaddeus Stevens has been the champion of freedom and protection. He has stood by our army when it was a corporal's guard; he leads it now when its columns cover the nation.

It is said that Mr Stevens is too old. We wish one-half of his colleagues were as young. Venice found a savior in the Dandolo, and did not feel that his years prevented him from defending the gonfalon of St. Mark's. Pennsylvania need not hesitate to crown with high honors her most illustrious son. The republican party will always be strong when its captains are selected from veterans who have served it as earnestly and wisely as Thaddeus Stevens.

We are constitutionally inclined to question his "protection" views, and some of his bitterness of speech, but aside from this we think it would be a great spectacle to see this most eloquent and powerful of American Statesmen in the United States Senate.

A ROMANCE OF PEERAGE. The London correspondent of the Birmingham Post writes:

The Countess Fortescue, whose untimely death has plunged her family in the deepest sorrow, will obtain a place in some future edition of the "Romance of the Peerage." About twenty years ago the beautiful and accomplished Miss Dawson was sought in marriage by two suitors—the one an exiled prince, heir to the fortunes and traditions of the French empire, and the other the son and heir to an English earldom. She gave her hand to the latter, and at the time every one said that in a worldly point of view the young lady had made the better match, leaving out the moral consideration that the prince was esteemed in society somewhat of a mauvais sujet, while the young viscount was one of the most amirable, rising, and philanthropic among our youthful nobility. The prince was very much in love, and deeply chagrined at the lady's preference for his rival. A year after the lady became Viscountess Ebrington, the unsuccessful suitor became President of the French Republic, and five years afterward he was proclaimed Emperor of the French. The Viscountess Ebrington must have been more or less than woman if she had not sometimes thought of the brilliant destiny of her former suitor, and of the imperial diadem which might have graced her fair brow.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 9, 1867.

Our Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.

The National Soldiers' and Sailors' Union League in this city, the pioneer organization of its kind in the country, has been engaged for some time past in investigating the causes and influences which, for years past, and more especially under its present Johnson management, have produced wholesale proscription of soldiers in the Government Printing Office. In all of the frequent "furloughs"—as the discharges of the soldiers are called—four-fifths of the unfortunates are soldiers. When Mr. Cornelius Wendell, who was the corrupt and corrupting agent of Buchanan's administration, superceded Mr. Defrees in September last, there were furloughed twenty-three printers, of whom nineteen were soldiers, directly in face of the Congressional resolution and Presidential order to the contrary. As a part of the duty for which it was established, the Union League investigated the circumstances, obtained the facts, and published their report thereon, accompanied with some severe resolutions. This finally drew Mr. Wendell out in a card, in which he denied that more than two soldiers have been discharged under his Superintendency, and claimed that the reason of their discharge was on account of incompetency. To this the League have replied by procuring the sworn affidavits of six witnesses, each of whom proves Mr. Wendell's statement to be a falsehood. These affidavits are directed to be published by the League, but lest the affiants, some of whom are employed under Mr. Wendell, should be punished by dismissal, their names will be left blank for the present. The affidavits will form the basis for a demand by the soldiers that this hospital for the support of virulent copperheads, men who refused to take the oath of allegiance, and confessed rebels, including one of the Baltimore assailants of the Massachusetts troops, shall be thoroughly overhauled by Congress, and its organization made to favor good loyal men, as well as good printers, which it does not do now.

This Government Printing Office, by the way, is an extensive institution. One fourteenth of all the paper consumed in the "art conservative of all arts," is here manufactured into ponderous and numerous "Pub. Docs." And I learn that the joint Committee on Printing will report in favor of the passage of a law, requiring all the printing of the various departments of the Government, much of which is now given out by contract, or done in the Department offices, shall be executed at the Government office. The debate upon the question of continuing the Globe contract, shows that the House is in favor of having that big job also transferred to the Government office. If such a policy should be determined upon, the present building, large as it is, will have to be materially enlarged.

The Congressional Globe is, also, a cosy nest for rebels and rebel sympathizers, notwithstanding it is the exclusive beneficiary of Congress. Outright rebels, who curse and revile that body every day, are sure of their "bread and butter" there, while I know of good soldiers and competent printers, who have been discharged from the office because they were obnoxious to the aforesaid rebels by reason of their outspoken loyalty.

Gen. Butler is at the Kirkwood House, in attendance upon the Supreme Court, in the case of the steamer Grey Jacket, which was captured off Mobile by the gunboat Kennebec, and condemned as prize of war. The owner claims to have his property restored to him on the ground that he was always a loyal man, and that he was fleeing from the rebel States to the North, when captured. Gen. Butler is the claimant's counsel, and he is devoting much time and research to give the case an exhaustive trial.

The General does not hesitate to avow his belief that Congress is but wasting precious time, and allowing treason dangerous opportunities, in delaying for an hour the impeachment and removal of the President. With the Supreme Court behind him, Johnson will be able to produce a perfect deadlock, so far the action of Congress is concerned, and defeat its every attempt to assert its authority over the question of reconstruction. Impeachment may be peaceably effected now—six months or a year hence it may be impossible. This view of the question is certainly gathering force here, but whether the Thirty-Ninth Congress will take any steps in that direction, is yet doubtful.

We have had two days of partial sleighing here. It is hardly possible for you of the North, who are so often surfeited with snow, to realize with what universal eagerness and zest the people, young and old, greet a snowstorm. Every sleigh in the city is brought into requisition, at from $5 to $25 per hour, while all sorts of rough vehicles, of every conceivable style of manufacture, improvised for the occasion, contain the noisy revellers of the snow carnival. Sliding on all the sidewalks by the juveniles is freely tolerated, and pedestrians are of no account. Snowballing, fort and castle building, are also prosecuted with vigor in all parts of the city. But the snow was an untimely visitor for the Skating Club, whose "park" was nearly spoiled for the time being. However, the Club went to work with a will, cleared off the snow, and opened the park on New Year's, in presence of a large number of people, including numerous home and foreign dignitaries. But the skating was very indifferent, and disappointed the many proficients of the exciting sport, although the new beginners were all the better satisfied.

Washington will probably send a large delegation of colored men to the proposed convention of colored Soldiers and Sailors, which is to be held at Philadelphia next week. Matters of vital interest to the unfortunate race, will be considered and discussed by the Convention. There are quite a large number of able, intelligent and wealthy colored men in this city. One man I know of in this city, carries on an extensive business, employing several white clerks, who work under his direction, receive his greenbacks punctually, and do not seem to be very much horrified at this evidence of "nigger equality." This man is a namesake of the great Virginian rebel General: and this reminds me that a friend of mine, who is a messenger, or was till recently, in one of the Departments, an active, intelligent, educated gentleman, I am assured is a half-brother of General Lee, though his mother belongs to a race which Virginia juries now decide, as they did before the war, it is no crime to murder.

Notwithstanding the Board of Aldermen passed a resolution, authorizing the payment of some ten thousand dollars, due from the city in behalf of the colored schools, the other branch has failed to concur, and so the colored schools have been suspended for want of funds. This outrage is of two years' standing, and Congress is very mild and forbearing if it allows this swindling corporation to treat its legislation with contempt much longer. Mayor Wallach, its official head, tries to be an imitator of Andrew Johnson, in his small way.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 8, 1867.

To the Editor of the Daily Whig:

The first week of the session of the "General Court" has passed; the State officers have been elected except State Treasurer.—Mr. Hitchborn, the present efficient incumbent will be re-elected to fill the position.

Already we have heard members speaking in favor of a short session; but the many important questions coming up before the Legislature would seem to preclude the idea of a session any shorter than those of the past two years. Several parties are asking for railroad charters, and conflicting interests will tend to prolong the session.

We notice among others, that the people of Aroostook will ask for a renewal of the charter for a road from Houlton to the St. Andrews road, which, when a connection is made with the latter by the E. & N. Am. road, this region will have a connection with Bangor and central portions of the State.

The reports of the State Treasurer, Bank Commissioners, Trustees and Superintendent of the Insane Hospital, and the Agent of the Penobscot Indians have been laid before the Legislature.

As the report of the Treasurer contains matter that will doubtless interest the readers of The Whig, we select a few facts therefrom.

The receipts of the Treasury during the year 1866 amounted to $2,244,761.99; balance in the Treasury Jan. 1, 1866, $305,175,64; total $2,549,937.63 The expenditures for the year 1866 amounted to $2,317,745.64, leaving a balance in the Treasury, Dec 31st, 1866, of $232,192.49 The Treasurer estimates the receipts for 1867 at $1,494,436,59, and the expenditures for the same at $1,309,801.00. The resources of the State are $1,494,408,25. The liabilities of the State, Jan. 1, 1867, are $6,067,160.45; of which sum $5,127,500.00, is the public debt, all of which is to be paid before 1890. Of the residue of the liability, trust funds amount to $536,671 29.

The Treasurer congratulates the Legislature that Maine has no floating debt, and that she is absorbing her own bonds to the amount of $130,000 yearly; that her bonds are at par, and her credit as good as any New England State. It has required some $125,000 to meet the demands of the Pension Act of the last Legislature.

Mr. Hichborn estimates that six mills on the valuation of 1860 will be ample for the demands of the Treasury for 1868. During the past year the Land Agent has paid into the Treasury $51,180.

The Treasurer states that the draft upon the Treasury for aid furnished by towns to soldiers' families, is now fast diminishing, and must soon cease. Since the last report claims on this account to the amount of $430,790.93 have been presented to the Governor and Council and $424,680,82 allowed.

As a sure protection agains financial troubles in the future, the Treasurer earnestly recommends that the principle of "pay as you go" should be strictly adhered to, and pronounces the policy of leaving our war debt to coming generations to pay as hazardous to the best interests of the State.

We must defer a notice of the other reports until another time.

The beggarly pittance paid to the Governor as a salary has called the attention of the Legislature to the matter. We have heard but one opinion in reference to the matter,—all speak in favor of an immediate increase—and yesterday, Mr. Woodman of Bucksport, made the first move in the direction of increasing it. Those we have heard speak of the matter, generally concede that the salary should be raised to $3000 or nearly that.

The first commission bearing the signature of Gov. Chamberlain was presented to-day.

The Joint Standing Committees were appointed to-day, and their announcement was followed by a batch of petitions, &c., that indicate work.

Many of our legislators feel that $150 a session is not sufficient remuneration at the present time; and many speak favorable to an increase of the pay of the legislative department, though it is doubtful if any action is taken thereon.

As a matter that may be interesting to your readers, we will state that we have learned from the Secretary of State's office, that the number of bears killed in the State during the past year, and returned for bounty, is 265, of which Penobscot county furnished 109, and the town of Lincoln 45.

In our next letter we propose to notice a few of the reports.

THE NATIONAL MILITIA. The bill introduced in the National House of Representatives to organize, arm and discipline the militia, provides for the establishing of a bureau of militia in the War Department, having at his head a Major General, who shall be the commander of the militia, subject to the orders of the President and Secretary of War. The term of service is fixed at three years. The organization shall be the same as that of the regular army. The officers are to be elected by the troops, and commissioned by the Governors, who are to exercise all the authority over the national guard, that is, by the constitution, reserved to the States. The test oath is to be taken by all exercising authority. The government is to arm and equip the troops, upon requisition and proper bond. There is to be an annual encampment,—the number of days is as yet undetermined. On being called into actual service, the pay and allowances will be the same as in the regular army. Congress is to have power to order the National guard into service to execute the laws of the United States, or to suppress insurrection in any State at the request of its Legislature. In case of war Congress may order such a part of the National Guard into service as is needed. All forms, parades, dress, &c., are to be according to the regulations of the regular army. Four schools of the National guard are to be established by Congress with the same course as at West Point. Commissions in the army shall be granted only to graduates at West Point, or of these schools of the guard, or to those who have served honorably, at least one year, in the militia or army.

FENIANISM. Since the immaculate Stephens is disclosed as a humbug and a traitor, we suppose the Fenians will be prepared for anything. An English nobleman who visited Ireland, in a recent speech said he regarded the whole Fenian movement as an attempt to fleece as many people as possible, and as a huge swindle. He found that there are from 23,000 to 24,000 soldiers in the country, most of them supplied with breech-loaders, which made them equal to an army of 50,000 supplied with inferior arms.—These troops are commanded by one of the best generals in the service, and they had round the coast a large number of ships of war commanded by one of the best of the admirals.

Besides this there were 14,000 constabulary and other police, so vigilant that he was often astonished at the way they looked at him, when travelling, and a friend of his was lately so watched because he wore a slouched hat, that he had serious thoughts of giving himself up. If they added the militia and the coastguard, there would be 50,000 available men in Ireland, and the forces in England were ready to aid the forces in Ireland. It was, therefore, he said, the greatest possible farce to talk of these Fenians. They have no arms, no cavalry, no artillery. The government was ready to crush them, and they are disheartened and are going away as fast as vessels can take them, fining this place too hot for them.

The Movement to Impeach President Johnson—The Charges to be Made.

The Boston Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs that the movement to impeach President Johnson was thoroughly discussed on Saturday in Congressional and other quarters, and is seemingly gaining ground. Those in favor of impeachment find that it only requires a majority to carry the resolutions in the House for a committee and to adopt the articles of impeachment. It is probable that a committee will be ordered, but it is not so certain that a majority vote can be obtained to sustain the indictment they may present. Representative Newell, of New Jersey, has drawn up the following charges against the President, which may be taken for the whole as covering those prepared by other members:

First—For legislating for the Southern States in the most autocratic manner, without consulting with the law-making power, when he first entered on the duties of his office.

Second—Assuming powers which Congress only can exercise, and laying down laws for whole sections of the country.

Third—Assuming to decide who are and who are not citizens of the United States and for excluding loyal men from the right of suffrage.

Fourth—For authorizing unpardoned rebels to exercise the right.

Fifth—For handing over the rebel States to disloyal men and putting loyal men under their sway.

Sixth—For elevating rebels who had fought to destroy the Union and putting down loyal men who had fought to preserve it.

Seventh—For appointing men Governors of States whose hands were wet with the blood of Union soldiers.

Eighth—For letting loose the rebels of New Orleans upon a peaceful and loyal assembly of loyal men.

Ninth—For afterwards shaking the bloody hands of these murderers in the reception room of the Presidential Mansion, and complimenting them upon the manner in which they had executed his programme for wiping loyalty out of the South.

Tenth—For denouncing Congress as an usurpation, and descending to stump oratory in Washington and other cities to deliver harangues calculated not only to excite a breach of the peace but a revolution of the Government itself.

Eleventh—On pretence of laying the corner stone of a monument to a deceased statesman, repeating those harangues at every point on the way, the only object of which was to bring Congress into contempt and derision.

There is so much misunderstanding relative to the mode of procedure in cases of impeachment that a reference to the constitutional powers will not be out of place. Section 4 article 2 of the Constitution is as follows:

The President, Vice President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

Art. 1, Sec. 2. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Art. 1. Sec. 3. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside, and no person be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

There have been only two trials of impeachment in the history of our Government and both were of U. S. Judges, which the Herald mentions as follows: There was one during the war, that of Judge Humphreys, of the U. S. District Court of Tennessee. The proceedings in his case were the same as if the President had been on trial, with the single exception that the Chief Justice did not preside over the Senate as the High Court of Impeachment. The Judiciary Committee of the House in that case, reported to the House that they found cause for the impeachment of Judge Humphreys in the fact of his having committed treason to the United States. The House thereupon by a majority preferred articles of impeachment which were acted upon by the Senate. The House of Representatives as a body appeared in the Senate Chamber virtually in the character of prosecuting attorneys. The Senators took their seats in rows on the side of the Senate Chamber and were duly sworn the same as jurors. Three members of the House Judiciary Committee were selected by the House as the prosecutors. Hon. Charles R. Train, then an M. C. from Massachusetts, conducted the case and examined the witnesses, the principal one being Gov. Brownlow of Tennessee. No one appearing for the defendant, (Judge Humphreys, who was then in the rebel civil service,) the case was submitted to the Senators sitting as a jury. The President of the Senate then standing in his place called each Senator by name and said: "Senator, do you find the defendant guilty of the misdemeanor and crime preferred by the House of Representatives?" Each Senator answered "Guilty," and the fact was recorded. The President of the Senate then declared Humphreys removed from office and forever disqualified from holding any office of trust or honor under the United States. In the event of the trial of a President the Chief Justice presides and doubtless pronounces the sentence of what is termed the High Court of Impeachment.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE IN FRANCE. A foreign letter says the Paris journals have now pretty generally expressed their sentiments on the President's message.—Their comments are for the most part unfavorable to Mr. Johnson, who is in many cases reproached in very severe terms for his stubborn perseverance in personal views, in antagonism to the plainly expressed sentiments of the people. This is the view most generally taken, both in private and public. Intense satisfaction, however, at the arrangement of the Mexican difficulty, is at present the all pervading French sentiment with regard to American affairs, and that which throws into the shade all other considerations.

THE POLITICS OF CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. A New York correspondent of the Lewiston Journal says that "our representative at the London Court (Charles Francis Adams), is a political renegade; recreant to every principle he ever espoused and the merest echo of President Johnson. But time, which "assuages griefs and levels all things," will dispose of him, who might well have taken lesson from the hundreds of wrecks, washed upon the political shores in this country. It seems to be a fatality, incident to position, to commit some blunder, by which the commonest sense is outraged and common confidence violated.—Who, conversant with history, does not recall hundreds of instances, prior to and during the war. Clay, Calhoun, Webster and we may safely add Evans of Maine, then their worthy peer, are fresh in the memory as victims of folly. Pierce, Buchanan, Toucey, Green, Davis, Doolittle, Stephens, Johnson and a legion more, are consigned to an infamy, compared with which, oblivion would be grateful."

Dr. Schenck on Dyspepsia.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia — A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belch ne of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

ON TRIAL.

Edward Heffron vs. William Gallupe.—Case for mal-practice of a physician. Pltf. alleges that Dft. treated him for a broken arm when he should have treated him for a dislocated shoulder, and in consequence of his ignorance, or carelessness, Pltf. has lost the use of his right arm $4000 worth. Pltf. is a well-known well digger and blower, and discoverer of water with the forked twig.—Dft. is a celebrated hamœopathic physician in this city. The case was tried a year or more ago, and resulted in a verdict, which was set aside.

The case was opened this morning very ably by Gen. John F. Appleton for the Pltf. This gentleman, since he left the Department of the Gulf, where he acquired laurels at the taking of Port Hudson, has devoted himself to the law, in which profession he is destined to gain additional laurels.

Garnsey, Appleton. Paine, Simpson.

Lawrence Doyle vs. Abram Woodard.—The jury in this case did not agree.

—The senior editor will be absent for a few days. Letters containing articles for the paper should be addressed to the firm.

—One or two communications will receive attention soon.

THE LATE JOHN M. LORD. On Monday evening the City Council passed the following resolutions, which we now republish on account of an error which escaped correction in consequence of their being put in type late at night:—

Whereas, In the providence of God, John M. Lord, a member of the Board from Ward seven, has been removed by death since our last regular meeting, Therefore,

Resolved, That in this event, this Board has lost a faithful, genial and consistent member, the community a worthy citizen, the family one whose irreparable loss we will not mock with words so inadequate to express.

Resolved, That to the family, we would tender our heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to the widows' God, and the Father of the fatherless, and that the Clerk be requested to transmit a copy of the foregoing resolutions to the family of the deceased.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY CONFERENCE. This body, which was organized in Brownville Jan. 11th, 1826, is holding its forty-first semi-annual meeting with the Congregational church at Veazie. The opening sermon yesterday was by Rev. S. P. Fay of this city, on the divine and human nature of Christ.

In the afternoon there were devotional exercises, and the theme of remarks was suggested by the questions—What can I do for Christ in the community, in the church, in my own heart?

The evening was devoted to Sabbath Schools and the Temperance cause.

This forenoon there will be devotional exercises, remarks, reports from churches and corresponding bodies—and in the afternoon, sermon by Rev. S. L. Bowler of Hampden and the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Conveyance to Veazie from near the Eastern Express office at 9, A. M., and ¼ of 2, P. M. Fare, 20 cents each way.

BANGOR FREEDMEN'S AID ASSOCIATION. There will be another meeting of ladies at the City Hall to-morrow, and every Thursday until further notice. The spirit manifested at the first meeting was what is always expected of our ladies. The ease and will with which they re-commenced the work of making garments insures a goodly number for distribution by their faithful almoner.—It is the wish to dispatch a case on Friday to meet immediate and pressing want. Let the attendance to-morrow, therefore, be largely increased, so that the first contribution may be a generous one. Every additional worker, who makes one garment during the day, will be a thousand times rewarded by the thought that she has thus been instrumental in bestowing warmth and comfort to a suffering woman or child.

Persons having second-hand clothing that they would like to bestow will please send it to the City Hall Thursday.

INSTALLATION. The following officers were installed in Rising Virtue Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., last evening, by R. W. G. W. Snow, D. D. G. M., 7th M. D.:

—Nineteen vessels belonging to the District of Portland were wrecked last year, as we learn from the Price Current.

—Some miserable scamps broke into the Primary School room on Pine street on Monday night, and committed various outrages of which a decent gang of Esquimaux Indians would be ashamed. The furniture of the room was thrown about or piled up in all directions and partly destroyed, the clock burned up in the stove, the children's books torn to pieces or burned, and the walls and curtains of the room besmeared with the most disgusting filth. We hope Marshal Farnham will be able to lay his hands upon some of the dirty villains.

THE RIVER FISHERIES OF MAINE. That our rivers may be restocked with valuable fish if proper means are taken, has been sufficiently demonstrated—and we are gratified to see that active measures are being taken in different parts of New England to that end. There is no reason why the great wealth formerly drawn from this source (and especially by the poorer class of our people) should be permanently alienated from us. The fish are yet in the ocean, and will yet be anxious to go up our rivers, if we will but give them an opportunity. We copy the following upon this subject from the Eastport Sentinel—and would call the attention of the Legislature to the matter:

Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, have taken hold in good earnest to restock their rivers with salmon, shad and other river fish. They are about to make fish-ways over or around dams that have heretofore prevented fish from ascending the rivers to their breeding places. Rivers that once abounded in fish now require to be restocked for the simple reason that dams have obstructed the free passage of the fish. I hope to see our State take this matter in hand the present winter. The mass of our people have become interested in this matter and only need some one to make a beginning. It is proved that fish can be bred and raised as well as land animals, and at a much cheaper rate, as they require no food or shelter from us but only the privilege to ascend freely our rivers. Very little water is required if proper fish-ways are constructed. We have never given a grant to any corporation to dam up our rivers, but have always reserved to ourselves a passage for our fish.

AIDS TO THE GOVERNOR. The following gentlemen have been appointed Aids to Gov. Chamberlain:

Gen. Selden Conner, Fairfield.
Gen. Geo. Varney, Bangor.
Gen. Thomas W. Hyde, Bath.
Gen. J. M. Brown, Portland.

—Portland is going ahead fast. The rogues evidently think so, for they seem to be flocking there fast. The papers of that city now chronicle from four to half a dozen burglaries, robberies or larcenies, per diem, and the police court business of all kinds corresponds.

—The shipments of lumber from Portland to foreign ports last year amounted to 12,326,000 feet long lumber, 1,689,000 shingles, 2,000 clapboards.

—Portland imported about 44,000 hogsheads of molasses last year.

—The Portland Price Current has a detailed statement of the trade and commerce of that city during the past year, from which we take the following items:

Seventy-one wholesale merchants paid licenses as such; the largest sales returned being those of Deering, Milliken & Co. (dry goods) $1,300,000; their license being $1300, or $1 per $1000 of sales.

The valuation of the city is $29,004,115, being an increase in valuation in fifteen years of $11,979,162 03.

The value of merchandise entered at the Custom House for the year was $14,501,-848, or an increase over lost year nearly 73 per cent. The duties assessed, $7,619,681, or an increase of 82 per cent. over the year 1865. The value of foreign exports was $5,710,863.

—Speaking of kerosene oil accidents, the Brunswick Telegraph has a practical idea.—It says:

Since the Lewiston accident we have read in our exchanges of the occurrence of similar accidents elsewhere, showing that an impure kerosene oil is for sale over a widely extended region of country. Let one case of burning occur; let a coroner's inquest be called, and let the jury report the facts that the death was in consequence of the explosion of oil manufactured by the Portland oil company or a Boston oil company, and we pledge our word that things would be set right and that right speedily. Bring the pressure to bear upon the pockets of the heartless rascals who hourly expose our lives and they will recognize that pressure.

ACCIDENT. N. A. Foster, Esq., proprietor of the Press, met with an accident on Friday last, which had nearly proved fatal. He was driving in the town of Hollis, down a steep hill, and behind him was a double horse sled on which was a high load of some kind of merchandise. Midway of the hill the pole of the sled broke, and the horses took fright and ran, throwing their driver from his seat. Mr. Foster, seeing the danger, put his own horse to his speed, and plunging down the hill turned a sharp corner into the gateway of a farm-yard, the entrance to which he thought too narrow to allow the double team to pass. He was mistaken, however. The frightened animals, obeying the instinct which makes a terrified horse seek to follow another horse, pushed after him, passed the gate, and plunged directly upon him before he could extricate himself from the sleigh. But for the fact of the broken pole of the sled happening at the last moment to strike some obstruction, Mr. F. must have been buried under the wreck of the loaded team. As it was, he was knocked down by the struggling horses, and remained insensible for some time, but received no serious injury.—[Star.

—A meeting of St. Stephen's Society was held Saturday evening. After a full interchange of ideas and informal ballot, it was unanimously voted to purchase St. Luke's church at the price for which it was offered them, viz.:—$15,000 for the lot, building and furnishings, exclusive of memorial windows, fount, chancel chairs and private pew furnishings, and $2000 for the bell and perpetual use of the organ—the church to be occupied jointly by St. Luke's and St. Stephen's societies for one year.—[Argus.

POISONING BY SILK THREAD. The silk thread used by seamstresses is liable to acquire poisonous properties in consequence of a fraudulent practice described as follows in the Moniteur de Hygiene et Salubrite Publique, by Mr. Chevallier, Jun., the director of that periodical:

"The value of the best quality of silk varies from sixty to seventy francs a pound, and the material is sold wholesale by weight. For many years it has been the custom to increase the weight by steeping the silk in sugar and water, or in an infusion of gallnuts; but this fraud not being found to yield sufficiently large profits, a patent was taken out for another plan, which consists in soaking the silk, whatever its color, in a bath of ascetate of lead, and after drying skeins, exposing them to a current of hydrosulphuric acid. The result is a deposition of a quantity of sulphuret of lead which greatly adds to the weight of the thread, and therefore, to its mercantile value. We are acquainted with a person at the head of an extensive dress-maker's establishment who, from the use of silk thread thus prepared, was attacked, as well as her work-women, with painter's colic; some of the women even lost their teeth, in consequence of their habit of biting off the ends of the thread; an operation during which they absorb a portion of the lead attached to it.

The following is an easy method of discovering the fraud, which is sometimes carried so far that some silks have been found to contain as much as 25 per cent. of their weight of sulphuret of lead. Place a few threads at the upper part of a tube closed at its inferior extremity, and moisten them slightly with water containing a small amount of acetic acid or strong vinegar. When the silk is impregnated, add a few drops of solution of iodide of potassium. If any lead be present, a golden deposit of iodide of lead will at once betray the adulteration.

AIRING CHAMBERS. This, says the Journal of Health, may be safely done in winter time when the day is clear, at any hour between sunrise and sunset, but on cloudy and damp days it is better to kindle a fire and thus create a draft up the chimney. A bed should always be made several hours before sundown, before it has had time to gather the damps of the evening. It will refresh us greatly if on waking up of a winter's night, we get out of bed, throw all the clothing to the foot and the next instant throw it back; this drives all the confined air away from the bedding without allowing it to get very cold; in addition the hands should be passed over the skin of the whole body two or three times; this operation is accompanied with a degree of refreshment and a feeling of purity on entering the bed again which more than pays for the trouble, and it is often a great sleep promoter, enabling a person to fall into a sound slumber in a few minutes after having been tossing restlessly for hours.

We read that a horse in Bridgeport, Con., swallowed a comb, the other day, which stuck in the orifice of the stomach and remained there nearly thirty hours, when it was extracted by a surgeon with an instrument three and a half foot long, made of wire covered with leather.

Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,
(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence.)
THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT

IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.

For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained; for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only TWO of which were sustained. By this trial, more thorough than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury,—the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, we think, no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as the recognized

The Little Post-Boy.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR

In my travels about the world I have made the acquaintance of a great many children, and I might tell you many things about their dress, their speech, and their habits of life, in the different countries I have visited. I presume, however, that you would rather hear me relate some of my adventures in which children participated, so that the story and the information shall be given together. Ours is not the only country in which children must frequently begin at an early age, to do their share of work and accustom themselves to make their way in life. I have found many instances among other races, and in other climates, of youthful courage, and self-reliance, and strength of character, some of which I propose to relate to you.

This one shall be the story of my adventure with a little post-boy, in the northern part of Sweden.

Very few foreigners travel in Sweden in the winter, on account of the intense cold. As you go northward from Stockholm, the capital, the country becomes ruder and wilder, and the climate more severe. In the sheltered valleys along the Gulf of Bothnia and the rivers which empty into it, there are farms and villages for a distance of seven or eight hundred miles, after which fruit trees disappear, and nothing will grow in the short, cold summers except potatoes and a little barley. Farther inland, there are great forests and lakes, and ranges of mountains where bears, wolves, and herds of wild reindeer make their home. No people could live in such a country unless they were very industrious and thrifty.

I made my journey in the winter, because I was on my way to Lapland, where it is easier to travel when the swamps and rivers are frozen, and the reindeer sleds can fly along over the smooth snow.

One night there was a wonderful aurora in the sky. The streamers of red and blue light darted hither and thither, chasing each other up to the zenith and down again to the northern horizon, with a rapidity and brilliance which I had never seen before. 'There will be a storm soon,' said my post-boy; 'one always comes, after these lights.'

Next morning the sky was overcast, and the short day was as dark as our twilight. But it was not quite so cold, and I travelled onward as fast as possible. There was a long tract of wild and thinly settled country before me, and I wished to get through it before stopping for the night. Unfortunately it happened that two lumber-merchants were travelling the same way, and had taken the horses; so I was obliged to wait at the stations until other horses were brought from the neighboring farms. This delayed me so much that at seven o'clock in the evening I had still one more station of three Swedish miles before reaching the village, where I intended to spend the night. Now, a Swedish mile is nearly equal to seven English, so that this station was at least twenty miles long.

I decided to take supper while the horse was eating his feed. They had not expected any more travellers at the station, and were not prepared. The keeper had gone on with the two lumber-merchants; but his wife—a friendly, rosy-faced woman—prepared me some excellent coffee, potatoes, and stewed reindeer-meat, upon which I made an excellent meal. The house was on the border of a large, dark forest, and the roar of the icy northern wind in the trees seemed to increase while I waited in the warm room. I did not feel inclined to go forth into the wintry storm, but, having set my mind on reaching the village that night, I was loath to turn back.

'It is a bad night,' said the woman, 'and my husband will certainly stay at Umea until morning. His name is Neils Peterson, and I think you will find him at the post-house when you get there. Lars will take you, and they can come back together.'

'Who is Lars?' I asked.

'My son,' said she. 'He is getting the horse ready. There is nobody else about the house to-night.'

Just then the door opened, and in came Lars. He was about twelve years old; but his face was so rosy, his eyes so clear and round and blue, and his golden hair was blown back from his face in such silky curls, that he appeared to be even younger. I was surprised that his mother should be willing to send him twenty miles through the dark woods on such a night.

'Come here, Lars,' I said. Then I took him by the hand, and asked, 'Are you not afraid to go so far to-night?'

He looked at me with wondering eyes, and smiled; and his mother made haste to say: 'You need have no fear, sir. Lars is young; but he'll take you safe enough. If the storm don't get worse, you'll be at Umea by eleven o'clock.'

I was again on the point of remaining; but while I was deliberating with myself, the boy had put on his overcoat of sheep-skin, tied the lappets of his fur cap under his chin, and a thick woolen scarf around his nose and mouth, so that only the round blue eyes were visible; and then his mother took down the mittens of hare's fur from the stove where they had been hung to dry. He put them on, took a short leather whip, and was ready.

I wrapped myself in my furs, and we went out together. The driving snow cut me in the face like needles; but Lars did not mind it in the least. He jumped into the sled, which he had filled with fresh, soft hay, tucked in the reindeer-skins at the sides and we cuddled together on the narrow seat, making everything close and warm before we set out. I could not see at all, when the door of the house was shut, and the horse started on the journey. The night was dark, the snow blew incessantly, and the fir trees roared all around us. Lars, however knew the way, and somehow or other we kept the beaten track. He talked to the horse so constantly and so cheerfully, that after a while my own spirits began to rise, and the way seemed neither long, nor so disagreeable.

'Ho there, Axel!' he would say, 'Keep the road,—not too far to the left. Well done. Here's a level; now trot a bit.

So we went on—sometimes up hill, and sometimes down hill—for a long time, as it seemed. I began to grow chilly, and even Lars handed me the reins, while he swung and beat his arms to keep the blood in circulation. He no longer sang little songs and fragments of hymns, as when we first sat out; but he was not in the least alarmed or even impatient. Whenever I asked (as I did about every five minutes,) 'Are we nearly there?' he always answered, 'a little farther.'

Suddenly the wind seemed to increase.

'Ah said he, 'now I know where we are; it's one mile more.' But one mile, you must remember meant seven.

Lars checked the horse and peered anxiously from side to side in the darkness. I looked also, but could see nothing.

'What's the matter?' I asked.

'We have got past the hills on the left,' he said. 'The country is open to the wind, and here the snow drifts worse than anywhere else on the road. If there have been no ploughs out to-night, we'll have trouble.'

You must know that the farmers along the road are obliged to turn out with their horses and oxen, and plough down the drifts whenever the road is blocked by a storm.

In less than a quarter of an hour we could see that the horse was sinking in the deep snow. He plunged bravely forward but made scarcely any headway, and presently became so exhausted that he stood quite still. Lars and I arose from the seat and looked around. For my part, I saw nothing except some very indistinct shapes of trees; there was no sign of an opening through them. In a few minutes the horse started again, and with great labor carried us a few yards farther.

'Shall we get out and try to find the road?' said I.

'It's no use,' Lars answered. 'In these new drifts we would sink to the waist. Wait a little while and we shall get through this one.'

It was as he said. Another pull brought us through the deep part of the drift, and we reached a place where the snow was quite shallow. But it was not the hard, smooth surface of the road; we could feel that the ground was uneven, and covered with roots and bushes. Bidding Axel stand still, Lars jumped out and began wading around among the trees. Then I got out on the other side, but had not proceeded ten steps before I began to sink so deeply into the loose snow that I was glad to extricate myself and return. It was a desperate situation, and I wondered how we should get out of it.

I shouted to Lars, in order to guide him, and it was not long before he also came back to the sled. 'If I knew where the road is,' said he, 'I could get into it again. But I don't know; and I think we must stay here all night.'

'We shall freeze to death in an hour!' I cried, I was already chilled to the bone. The wind had made me drowsy, and I knew that if I slept I should soon be frozen.

'O, no!' exclaimed Lars, cheerfully. 'I am a Norrlander, and Norrlanders never freeze. I went with the men to the bear-hunt, last winter up on the mountains, and we were several nights in the snow. Besides, I know what my father did with a gentleman from Stockholm on this very road, and we'll do it to-night.

'What was it?'

'Let me take care of Axel first,' said Lars. 'We can spare him some hay and one reindeer skin.'

It was a slow and difficult task to unharness the horse, but we accomplished it at last. Lars then led him under the drooping branches of a fir tree, tied him to one of them, gave him an armful of hay, and fastened the reindeer-skin upon his back. Axel began to eat, as if perfectly satisfied with this arrangement. The Norrland horses are so accustomed to the cold that they seem comfortable in a temperature where one of ours would freeze.

When this was done, Lars spread the remaining hay, evenly over the bottom of the sled and covered it with the skins, which he tucked in very firmly, on the side towards the wind. Then lifting them on the other side, he said: 'Now take off your fur coat, quick, lay it over the hay, and then creep under it.'

I obeyed as rapidly as possible. For an instant I shuddered in the icy air; but the next moment I lay stretched in the bottom of the sled, sheltered from the storm. I held up the ends of the reindeer-skin while Lars took off his coat and crept in beside me. Then he drew the skins down and pressed the hay against them. When the wind seemed to be entirely excluded, Lars said we must pull off our boots, and untie our scarfs, and so loosen our clothes that they would not be tight on any part of the body. When this was done and we lay close together, warming each other, I found that the chill gradually passed out of my blood. My hands and feet were no longer numb: a delightful feeling of comfort crept over me; and I lay as snugly as in the best bed. I was surprised to find that, although my head was covered, I did not feel stifled. Enough air came in under the skins to prevent us from feeling oppressed.

There was barely room for the two of us to lie, with no chance of turning over or rolling about. In five minutes, I think, we were asleep, and I dreamed of gathering peaches on a warm August day, at home. In fact, I did not wake up thoroughly during the night; neither did Lars, though it seemed to me that we both talked in our sleep. But as I must have talked English and he Swedish, there could have been no connection between our remarks. I remembered that his warm, soft hair pressed against my chin, and that his feet reached no further than my knees. Just as I was beginning to feel a little cramped and stiff from lying so still I was suddenly aroused by the cold wind on my face. Lars had risen up on his elbow, and was peeping out from under the skins.

'I think it must be near six o'clock,' he said, 'The sky is clear, and I can see the big star. We can start in another hour.'

I felt so much refreshed that I was for setting out immediately; but Lars remarked, very sensibly, that it was not yet possible to find the road. While we were talking Axel neighed.

'There they are!' cried Lars, and immediately began to put on his boots, his scarf and heavy coat. I did the same, and by the time we were ready we heard shouts and the crack of whips. We harnessed Axel to the sled, and proceeded slowly in the direction of the sounds, which came, as we presently saw, from a company of farmers, out thus early to plough the road. They had six pairs of horses geared to a wooden frame, something like the bow of a ship, pointed in front and spreading out to the breadth of ten or twelve feet. This machine not only cut through the drifts but packed the snow, leaving a good solid road behind it. After it had passed, we sped along merrily in the cold morning twilight, and in little more than an hour reached the post-house at Umea, where we found Lar's father prepared to return home. He waited, nevertheless, until Lars had eaten a good warm breakfast, when I said good by to both, and went on towards Lapland.

Some weeks afterwards, on my return from Stockholm, I stopped at the same little station. This time the weather was mild and bright, and the father would have gone with me to the next post-house; but I preferred to take my little bedfellow and sledfellow. He was so quiet and cheerful and fearless, that although I had been nearly all over the world, and he had never been away from home,—although I was a man and he a young boy, I felt that I had learned a lesson from him, and might probably learn many more, if I should know him better. We had a merry trip of two or three hours, and then I took leave of Lars forever. He is no doubt still driving travellers over the road, a handsome, courageous, honest-hearted young man of twenty-one, by this time.

PENOBSCOT MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

BANGOR, MAINE.

OFFICE,—Corner of Hammond and Central Streets.

Incorporated 1836.

THIS COMPANY IS WHOLLY MUTUAL. It is strictly a Benevolent Institution for Mutual Protection.

This Company being purely Mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates. The member in reality insure each other, and the accumulated assets are held by the Company in trust to meet its obligations to them.

Among the many reasons why this Company deserves the liberal support and patronage which it has attained, are the following:—

It offers the most ample and undoubted security to its members. It possesses over

$230,000,

IN RELIABLE ASSETS.

The business of the Company is confined exclusively to Fire Insurance. The Assets, in proportion to the amount at risk, are probably greater than those of any Established Company in the United States. It has always adjusted and settled its losses with promptness and liberality. It is economical in its business. Its Directors are well known—they are men of wealth, reliability, and integrity. It being purely a Maine Institution—other things being equal—entitles it to a preference over Foreign Corporations.

This Company will continue as heretofore to insure persons against

STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFU URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips. A teaspoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy.

CONSTITUTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Jan 29, 1866.

DR. GREGG:

Dear Sir:—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physicians for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source. My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me. I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.

Respectfully,
MRS. MARGILL C. LEVANWAY.

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING.

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat Languor, Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision.

DANVILLE, PA., June, 1862.—Dr. William H. Gregg—Dear Sir:—In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DE WITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1861.—Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents:—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of the Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder. I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain, He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable. For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced to use the Constitution Water and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.

WM. M. VAN BEUSCHOTEN.

WEATHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1863.—Dr. W. H. Gregg.—Dear Sir:—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Leo, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommended it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love.

Your truly, LEONARD S. BIGLOW.

Special Notice

To Soldiers and Seamen!!

The Law Has Passed!

Bounties Equalized.

Justice Done the Early Soldiers and Seamen of the War, their Widows and Heirs.

NOTICE has been sent me from Washington that the Law equalizing the bounty to Soldiers and Seaman was passed Saturday last, July 28, by Congress.

I am now authorized and prepared to collect Bounty for every Soldier and Seaman entitled, for their Widows and Heirs.

Application made personally at my office, or by mail,—the discharge of the Soldier or Seaman should be handed in—as it must be forwarded with the application.

All applications must be made signed, witnessed and sworn to, AFTER THE PASSAGE OF THIS LAW. Many soldiers have been induced to sign papers before the law passed. This practice is irregular, fraudulent and void, and papers in all such cases must be made over.

THE

IN THE MARKET.

"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD

THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.

1st, ECONOMY. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty percent. of fuel.

2d, SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3d, CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.

4th, BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th, ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as a tin kitchen.

6th, BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.

Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.
